bad I think life can be for me, there are many people that struggle through life much harder than I do. I've heard people say those things before but, that never made any sense to me...until I came here."

"I believe we're putting a small dent into an enormous problem," said Engler. "We've all given it our best, and even though we may not be able to provide very much, what we have done has meant the world to many people."

"There have been many moments we've shared that I'll never forget," added Johnson. "But the smiles we bring to the children here have made our experience more than something special."
